Chesapeake & Ohios-- Five Twenties Central Pacifics.
BANKING OFFICE OF
FISK & HATCH,
No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.
September 5th, 1871.
Of the FIFTEEN MILLION CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO SIX PER CENT. LOAN, but about $4,500,000 remain unsold, and this remainder will be taken up rapidly.
The five years' option having expired on all series of FIVE-TWENTY BONDS, except in 1867s and 1868s, they are liable to be called in for payment. The redemption of 160 millions FIVE-TWENTIES in coin, and the purchases by the Government during the ensuing four months, with the premium thereon, will release about 150 millions of invested capital independently of dividend and interest payments, the greater part of which must seek reinvestment.
The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO SIXES have absolutely 30 years to run; are especially desirable for steady investments, and can now be bought
17 per cent. less than Ten-forties.
20 per cent. less than Five-Twenties.
25 per cent. less than the Six-s of 1881.
and are equally sure to be paid principal and interest in gold coin. Their amount is limited by the Trust Deed to $15,000,000. Price (at present) 93 and accrued interest, that is, with coupon attached, payable Nov. 1.
$1,000 Chesapeake and Ohio Bond costs to-day $934.16.
$500 Chesapeake and Ohio Bond costs to-day $477.08.
$100 Chesapeake and Ohio Bond costs to-day $95.42.
Only a small amount of the latter denominations remains, and no more can be made. Bonds are in coupon or registered form, same as Five-twenties
This debt is created by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company in order more speedily and effectually to extend and complete the main line of their Road to the Ohio River. This work—the most important internal improvement now progressing in this country—is rapidly approaching completion. It will establish another and superior line of communication between the Ohio and Mississippi valleys and the eastern cities; bringing ten millions of people, mainly producers, nearer to the centres of consumption in the Eastern States and nearer to the political and commercial capitals of their country. Such is the commanding importance of this Trunk Line that the larger cities of the West are projecting feeders to connect with it, so as to avail themselves of its unequalled facilities as soon as it is completed. Large tracts of valuable coal and iron lands along its route are passing into the hands of practical miners and iron manufacturers; a large city is springing up at the western terminus, the head of reliable navigation on the Ohio, where it intersects 12,000 miles of river transit, and will soon be in connection with 20,000 miles of railroad carriage.
The CENTRAL PACIFIC SIX PER CENT. BONDS are as safe for investment as Government bonds. Their amount fixed by act of Congress at $26,885,000, is secured by property worth four times their value; they can only be bought in the open market, and are becoming scarcer in consequence of their gradual absorption by investors here and in Europe; they have a ready market in all the principal money centres, and have still twenty-four years to run; the earnings of the road are steadily increasing, and will probably reach $10,000,000 for the current year, affording a handsome surplus after payment of expenses and interest. Present price, 110½ to 102.
When the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad is completed, in 1872, and the Bonds are dealt in at the Stock Exchanges of the world, we have no doubt they will be equally popular with the Central Pacifics. Both principal and interest of the CENTRAL PACIFIC and CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS, are specifically payable in gold coin in New York; the interest on the former being paid January and July, and of the latter, May and November, corresponding with the two classes of Five-twenties.
We recommend either of them to our friends and customers with the same confidence that we did the Five-Twenty bonds, when we were selling millions of them for the United States Government.
We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.
Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.
FISK & HATCH.
P. S.—Accounts of Banks, Bankers and others received, on which we allow Four per Cent. interest. Certificates of deposits issued and collections made in all parts of the Union.

State Aid to Denominational Schools.

Elsewhere will be found two articles on the subject of State aid to denominational schools. One is from Rev. E. A. Helmershausen, a distinguished member of the Methodist denomination, and the other is anonymous. There are omitted from Mr. Helmershausen's note certain personal allusions which would unquestionably be as obscure to the public as they are to us. In other respects both letters are excellent both in spirit and in substance, and we heartily endorse all that is said by either. It is fortunate that criticism of the proceedings of the Convention lately held in this city has elicited from influential members of one of our largest and most powerful religious bodies the expression of opinions so sound and healthful. Substantially the position of both Mr. Helmershausen and the anonymous correspondent is this: "If aid is to be given to schools established by religious bodies, the Methodist institutions are entitled to the same consideration as the rest; but the Methodists will gladly give their assent to the doctrine that the practice of subsidizing denominational schools should be at once and forever abandoned."

This is precisely the theory always held in these columns. Last winter the Legislature of Maine clearly indicated by its action that it regarded as inexpedient the granting of further aid to academies, seminaries or other educational institutions except the public schools. The Convention of which Mr. Helmershausen was a member seemed to ignore that historical fact, and to shape its action on the false hypothesis that the State was to go on giving a little to a Universalist school here, a Methodist school there, and to a Congregationalist school yonder on the ground that the two rival sects had been provided for. It was for this cause alone that we entered our protest. The time for encouraging the rivalry of religious denominations in the education of youth is past, and the time has come when the State should put forth all its energies in strengthening, enlarging and bringing within the reach of all uninstructed persons of whatever age its main pillar, its great protection from all dangers, its main stay—the common school system.

We have from time to time protested with all the vigor we could command against the granting of special privileges to Catholic schools. Now whatever may be our prejudices in favor of Protestantism, those prejudices were not the inspiration of our protest. As a political paper the PRESS can take no note of denominational differences. In opposing State aid to denominational schools it does so on strictly political grounds. It believes most profoundly that secular instruction is the function of civil and not of religious authorities. In giving effect to any other notion not only is the common school, the foundation stone of the Republic weakened, but unprofitable rivalries and contentions are the main result. It is an absolute impossibility so to apportion the bounty of the State as to content alike the Unitarians and the Baptists, the Methodists and the Spiritualists, the the Swedenborgians and the Episcopalians, the Congregationalists and the Quakers. Indeed, if there were not other and more important reasons for establishing the rule that no State aid shall be given to private schools, the scandal created every year by a religious lobby log rolling and disputing in the State House, and inclined to "call names," as we fear one of our correspondents is in his letter, would be sufficient to justify it.

"Churches and state" is an idea almost as repugnant to the genius of our institutions as "church and state." Where the state supports schools exclusively of one denomination, as in England, the result is a gigantic wrong, but the schools are good. Here the state, by the infinite subdivision of its resources, fails to build up good schools while it does not, after all, escape the imputation of allying itself with religious denominations and discriminating in favor of some to the neglect of others.

SECRETARY DELANO is lecturing on the Indian Peace Policy of Gen. Grant.

JUDGE PITMAN it is said will accept the nomination of the Probibitionists for Governor of Massachusetts, though his name was used without his consent.

THE New York Evening Post predicts that an earnest effort will be made at the coming session of Congress to inflate the currency by the further issue of greenbacks.

BANGOR exalts itself greatly in view of its relation to the festivities now progressing. The Whig says that it is "a central emporium on a grand international thoroughfare." And the Whig is right.

A SPECTATOR in the court room in New York the other day carelessly overturned a chair, when Judge Barnard gravely recommended him to be more careful, as that chair alone had already cost the city over $400,000.

IT is said that no less than 5400 iron steamers are now building in the United Kingdom. This is a state of things calculated to appeal strongly to the feelings of intelligent Congressmen in favor of doing something for our shipbuilding and commercial interests.

ONE would think that M. Thiers was in league with those who hope to restore Napoleon and the Empire, and that the part assigned to him was rendering republican government ridiculous and contemptible by passing off his disguised despotism as a genuine democracy.

GENERAL BUTLER would have a fine opportunity to air his immaculate valor if he would don the arms he wore at Fort Fisher and lead his Gloucester constituents to the rescue of the "E. A. Horton." Perhaps he might win as many laurels in the sea fight as he did in his Virginia land fights, though probably not so many as that antique Butler, Themistocles, did at Salamis.

THE Boston Post advises against the desperate project of abandoning the Democratic organization and supporting a conservative Republican for President. It speaks of the Democracy as "that noble organization, imbedded in the principles and history of the Constitution." Certainly, just as the old trilobite or any other fossil is imbedded in the rock and is no longer of interest to anybody but the paleontologist.

THE Argus argues editorily in favor of treating the President respectfully, and seems to give itself great credit for magnanimity in not recommending that he be mobbed or assassinated. But the Argus was an original Grant paper, and its moderation is less surprising than that of the fiery Bangor Democrat which bespeaks "a clear sky, a bright sky and a balmy atmosphere for Gen. Grant's reception, and goes to press a day earlier than usual in order to give its printers a holiday.

FIVE fishing schooners have been seized by the Dominion authorities within a year, and consequently the Gloucester people are intensely exasperated, and are understood to have adopted a systematic plan for "cutting out" their vessels. Their anger is nourished by Gen. Butler, who in this way is able to continue his ascendancy over them. Indeed, the whole thing looks almost like a device of Butler's for creating a sensation and making himself conspicuous by giving warlike advice and promulgating legal opinions. We have seen nothing more characteristic than his plan of operations with respect to the "Horton." The General states that it is the duty of the United States authorities to board the Horton first if possible, seize her in the name of the United States, put an officer on board, and then if the British gunboat attempts to retake her, it will be a direct insult to the United States through her officer, who will be in command. The reasons for this act are as follows: The Horton, being in American waters, is under the jurisdiction of the United States authorities; being without papers she is liable to seizure. Of course, this is understood by all as only a subterfuge to get the Horton into port, and after the proper proceedings to deliver her over to her owners.

CATACAZY AGAIN.—It is said that the recall of the Russian minister is asked not because of any social squabble but becauseof his speaking well of and against the treaty of Washington. It is also charged that Mr. Catacazy betrayed State secrets which had come to him in his official capacity, and did all he could to embarrass the efforts for peace between Great Britain and the United States. This is a far more serious matter than any social question can be

Letter from the Northwest.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Oct. 9, 1871.

To the Editor of the Press:

Few of your citizens are aware of the extent of the influence exerted by Maine men in the political councils and business circles of this State. No other State has furnished half the number of men of consequence that Maine has. Of the present prominent political men of the State, Maine has contributed her full quota.

The Governor—Horace Austin—is from one of the interior counties, and has a brother engaged in business in one of the towns of Franklin. Gov. Austin is a candidate for reelection, nominated by acclamation. He is a lawyer by profession, and was taken from the judicial bench to fill the executive chair. His residence is at St. Peter, on the Minnesota River.

The Democratic candidate for Governor, is Winthrop Young, Esq., of St. Anthony, formerly of Calais, in your State. He is an estimable gentleman, and a successful business man.

The two Representatives in Congress are both from Maine. Hon. Mark H. Dunnell, who represents the first or Southern District, is well known in your city, resided in Buxton before coming to this State, was for a while in command of the 5th Maine Regiment, and subsequently was consul to Vera Cruz. Before his election to Congress, Mr. Dunnell had served in the State Legislature, and for several years was Superintendent of Common Schools, an office analagous to one he held in your State several years before his removal to the Northwest. His present residence is Owatonna, about seventy miles from this city on the line of the Milwaukee railroad.

The Representative from the Second District, which embraces the northern part of the State, and more than three fourths of the territory, is Hon. John T. Averill, of St. Paul, formerly of Winthrop in your State. Mr. Averill is a paper manufacturer and successful merchant, and stands deservedly high in the esteem of his fellow citizens.

The present Superintendent of Common Schools—the successor to Mr. Dunnell—is Mr. Wilson of Red Wing, a city on the Mississippi just above Lake Pepin. He formerly resided in Skowhegan, graduated at one of your Maine colleges, and was accustomed to spend his long vacations in teaching, usually in South Thomaston and vicinity.

When it is remembered that the German and Scandinavian elements are both represented in the leading offices of the State government, it will be conceded that for a single State, and one so remote as yours, Maine men exert a large influence in the politics of the Gopher State.

Jared Benson, collector of Internal Revenue for more than half the State, is also from Maine, and the Legislative Register will show that the same State has contributed a full quota of her sons to make up that department of the State Government.

Of the business men of the State hailing from Maine, I will name a few specimens: Hersey, Staples, Stickney and Bronson, of Stillwater, all from Maine, are among the most prominent men of that thriving lumbering city. The Folsoms of Taylor's Fall, also from Maine, take front rank among the successful men in the St. Croix valley.

Sam Mayall of St. Paul, at one time representative of a Maine district in Congress, then a Democrat and now a Free-Trade, Prohibition Republican, is among the foremost men of the Saintly city. He is much more active at present in business than politics, though his name is being used in connection with a third party nomination for Governor. My limited acquaintance in St. Paul, does not permit me to mention other representatives of your State in that enterprising city.

In St. Anthony, on the right bank of the Mississippi at the Falls of the same name, the Maine element is very large. Prominent among this class is Mr. Young, already named, Farnham and Lovejoy, Capt. Rollins, Todd, Chase and many others, all engaged in the lumbering or milling business.

In this city—directly opposite to St. Anthony—Maine men take high rank among the business population of the city. Foremost among them is Dorilius Morrison, Esq., who, with his sons, does the heaviest lumbering business at the Falls. Mr. Morrison has twice been elected Mayor of the city. W. D. Washburn, Esq.,—brother to the Collector of your port—occupies a front rank among successful business men. Mr. Stickney, his partner, is a son of D. Stickney, Esq., of the Presque Isle Sunrise. R. S. Stevens, with his brother-in-law, Mr. Morse, are heavy wholesale grocers. Mr. Stevens formerly represented Oxford county in the Senate of your State. Fletcher, a sort of dry goods king, is from the Penobscot; so are the Brackets, one of whom has been styled a "steam engine in boots." Mr. Fletcher's partner, Loring, is from Yarmouth. Besides these we have Gibson & Tyler, whose woolen blankets have taken first premiums all through the West, the Days, the Joneses, the Fosters, the Wakefields, the Veazies, the Dillinghams, the Conants, the Longfellows, the Elliots, and a host of others, whose names would fill my sheet, all hailing from the "Dirigo" State, and all engaged in business at this point.

This city seems to a down-easter more like a New England town than any place of its size in the West. The New England element largely predominates among the population of native birth. The customs of the place—outside the foreign population—are those of New England. In this respect it presents a striking contrast to St. Paul; a very pleasing contrast to a New England man.

Wherever one goes in the State he finds the sons of Maine. A few days since I made the very pleasant acquaintance of one formerly of Norway—W. W. Hobbs, Esq.,—a noble specimen of the "Oxford Bears." I had known Mr. H., in a business way, for six months or more, and by mere accident the discovery was mutual that we were both from Maine, and had known each other well—by report—in days of lang syne. Mr. Hobbs is located some seventy-five miles from here, on the big prairie beyond the woods, on the line of the St. Paul and Pacific railroad, settled down, to use his own expression, "among the unwashed Swedes;" and he is doing a lucrative business in exchanging merchandise and greenbacks for country produce. His daughter, he informed me, is the wife of J. M. Adams, Esq., of the Argus of your city, but I was not long in discovering that Mr. H. has much more sympathy for the good reputation and business prosperity of his son-in-law than for the political dogmas promulgated in his paper.

But enough of this gossipy letter. It may or may not be interesting to your readers.

This city—the whole State of Minnesota—has suffered a severe loss in the death of one of its truest friends, within a few days. On Sunday last was committed to the dust, all that was mortal of Col. CYRUS ALDRICH, recently postmaster of this city, and for four years during the war a Representative in Congress—a man who did more for the State, in Congress and out of Congress, than any other man. To Col. Aldrich, more than to any one else, is due the credit of securing the land grant to the Northern Pacific railroad, now in process of construction, and there was not a Minnesota soldier who went to Washington during the late bloody struggle, who did not have reason to thank God that such a man as Aldrich was there to see that his wants were provided for and the honor of his State protected. His big heart has ceased to beat, a great soul has gone to the God who gave it. Long in public life, often in situations to have amassed wealth if he had been less scrupulous of his honor, yet he died poor,—poor in this world's goods, but rich in the hold he had upon the respect and esteem of those who knew him. He had few if any enemies, and to have become his enemy would have betrayed a spirit not at all enviable. To use the words of a St. Paul paper by no means politically friendly, "even his greatest defects were near akin to virtues." If he had weaknesses—and who has not?—they were those developed by his great generosity, and remarkable social spirit. His funeral on Sabbath last, from the Universalist church, was the largest ever known in the city.

As I write tidings of the terrible calamity which has befallen Chicago come to hand, and I have no heart to say more. The fiend in his wrath has seemed to do his worst and the Queen City of the West has become a desolation. Your people will have a keen appreciation of the terrible calamity, and that your sympathy will take practical form no one familiar with your history can doubt.

OBSERVER.

Church and State Again.

CAMDEN, Oct. 14, 1871.

To the Editor of the Press:

In your issue of the 13th inst. there is an editorial—"Church and State"—in reference to the Methodist State Convention. The first part is very appreciative. As I read the essay which led to the discussion of which you complain, will you allow me a little space to explain our position. If the State takes the ground of no money to any denominational schools, we will give a good, hearty, Methodist amen; but if appropriations are made at all, it should be done impartially and fairly. The idea of the Methodist church becoming the State church never existed in our wildest dreams. Certainly we have no desire for it. In England, under the British Lion, the Wesleyans came out from the State church, and we shall never return to one under the wings of the American eagle. We only desire of the State, "and the rest of mankind," a fair chance and no special favors. The essays will be published, and will speak for themselves.

Yours truly,

E. A. HELMERSHAUSEN.

MR. EDITOR,—Your editorial of the 13th inst., in relation to the Methodist Convention, contains some inferences which are hardly just to that body.

The essay containing what you deem objectionable sentiments in regard to State aid to denominational schools were the sentiments of the author of the essays. How far the convention approved those sentiments, was not determined by vote.

The time devoted to this discussion was brief, and but little opportunity could be allowed for a full discussion of the subject.

The subject of education was referred to a committee of three persons from each of the two conferences of this State, to report at some time hereafter.

Methodists of Maine do not ask State patronage for their schools, on denominational grounds, but simply on the ground of the service they are rendering in the work of general education; much less do they claim or desire a monopoly of State patronage. They however do object to an unjust discrimination against their interests. All they ask is equal justice, in common with all other citizens and religious denomtinations in the State. METHODIST.

Recent Publications.

A very lively, off hand jovial, book for boys is J. Robinson Warren's Shooting, Boating and Fishing. The boys will hardly find a more attractive teacher in the art and mystery of selecting gunpowder, gun and dogs; of shooting snipe, woodcock, ducks and quail; of boat sailing, splicing a rope, reefing, trimming sails and tacking; of fishing and all the details of the piscatorial science. Illustrated. Published by Charles Scripner & Co., New York, and for sale by Loring, Short & Harmon.

Dresser & Ayer have received from Sheldon & Co., New York, two fresh novels that appeared originally in the columns of the Galaxy where they were very popular. These are Overland, a sparkling story of Western life and adventure by J. W. De Forest, author of Kate Beaumont, &c., and Lady Judith by the prolific Justin McCarthy who lately wrote such a romance about our Maine liquor law and called it fact. Mr. McCarthy's acknowledged fiction, however, is undeniably good.

Charles Kingsley, who began life as a roaring Radical and the author of chartist novels, but who has now glided, like so many middle-aged English gentlemen, into wealth, high social position and Toryism, all at about the same time, has recently made a visit to the West Indies. He records his experiences in a book which he calls At Last: A Christian in the West Indies. It is finely illustrated and is as readable as any of the author's novels. Published by Harper & Brothers.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.—The correspondent of the Boston Journal accompanying the Presidential party gives the following description of the scene in the President's car. Most people in Maine have not been accustomed to look upon the jovial member from the Fourth District exactly as "a sphinx," but never mind:

A soft perfume fills the charming middle salon in which the President receives, and where, by the way, I believe he has not been seen with the traditional cigar yet. He is as inscrutable as ever, and seems to have but little inclination to fall into conversation. The little man with his firm, set jaw and stern eyes, and in his dress of solemn black, all unbefitting for so martial an air, is surrounded by faces and men which bring out his characteristics in strong relief.

Let us look for a moment at the people in this special car. Poor Mr. President, you are the idol of the moment, but you must obey the bidding of Speaker Blaine, who at this moment as I write is in his own district and knows every stone by the wayside. He speaks to Gen. Grant: "Mr. President, you had better stand on the platform just here," and the President wearily obeys. Blaine, with his intense, practical face and brusque business like air, attracts attention everywhere, and receives cheers all along the line. There is a galaxy of celebrities seated in the grand saloon of the special car. There is Gen. Babcock, one of the President's private Secretaries, a quiet gentleman, with the military cut of whisker, and a fund of information about Washington; there is the stout, full bearded, ripe Secretary of War, Gen. Belknap, smoking a la Grant; there is Hon. Mr. Peters, the Maine Congressman serene as a sphinx; that tall gentleman with a huge moustache and nautical air is Admiral Alden, commander of the "Wabash;" that noble looking gentlemen, with long, silver gray hair and moustache, is ex-Governor Chamberlain, of Maine, and there, seated beside him, in Gen. Horace Porter, another of the President's secretaries, jauntily chatting; while next him the spiritual face of Senator Buckingham, of Connecticut, shines like a star; U. S. Marshal Dehner strides to and fro in the carriage, watchful of the President's comfort; Gen. Rufus Ingalls has fallen asleep in his chair, and Senator Cattell, of New Jersey, fresh, active and observant, is looking out on the Maine plains thro' which we are so rapidly running. In the side saloon Hon. Mr. Robeson, the navy's efficient Secretary, chats cherrily with the tired President, and cracks jokes with Gen. Belknap, who is the life of the occasion. Secretary Robeson is of the English type of feature, full of good humor, affable and running over with information. Postmaster General Creswell is seated next, quietly smoking his eternal cigar. He is an elderly gentleman, quiet and reserved in manner, and so devoted to his work that his mind is always on it. There is the familiar face of Dr. Loring, our Massachusetts farmer and politician, with his clear cut, manly, impassive features, redolent of calm. Then there is Hon. John Lynch, of Portland, and there is the quiet, fine looking Gov. Perham, of Maine, modest in his corner, and next him Senator Sawyer, of South Carolina. Major Clayton McMichael, Commander of the third district of Maine during the war, is next. He is now editor of the Philadelphia North American, and represents the Quaker city in the party. There is Gen. Thomas W. Hyde, who was with Sheridan in the Shenandoah; Gen. James A. Hall, whose artillery did such execution at Gettysburg; ex-Senator James W. Bradbury, ex-Gov. Coburn, A. B. Mullett, Supervising architect of the Treasury of Washington, are all seated near by. The British Consul for Portland has joined the party, and polished Sir John Young, Lord Lisgar, of Canada, is surrounded by his ministers, and busily engaged in conversation.

A CONVENIENT FRIEND.—It is now thought that Barton, the Waterbury, Vt., bank robber, made his escape from the custody of Sheriff Brown in feminine disguise. It is stated that a woman came aboard the cars at Essex Junction on Tuesday morning. After the train left Montpelier with Barton as a passenger, unhandcuffed, she expressed and showed strong sympathy with him and was allowed by his keepers to remain in the saloon, of which he was an occupant. It is supposed that she changed apparel with him, left the cars at North Hartland while Barton proceeded to New York, the unobserved of all observers.

DRAW POKER ON THE BENCH.—They must be running short of judicial timber in Pennsylvania. The keeper of a gambling hell in Honesville was recently hauled up before the local court. In the course of the trial some curious facts were developed. It was ascertained that the prosecution had been instigated by one of the side judges of the court who had lost $4000 not long before in the defendant's place at draw poker, and that the other side judge had fraudulently tampered with the records of the court, and given the defendant a tavern license after the president judge had refused his application. Tho president judge in passing sentence remarked that his associates on the bench were greater criminals than the prisoner at the bar. We are not surprised to hear that the sessions of that court have been suspended, and there is considerable excitement in Honesville.

HOW CHIVARLOUS KENTUCKIANS TREAT HELPLESS MEN. — Further accounts of the killing of Abel Gridley, at Warsaw, Ky., say that Gridley was a man of some property but much feared. His depredations on the neighbors became so intolerable that they banded against him and caught him. There were several cases of robbery against him in court and he threatened the lives of the witnesses finally killing Joseph Worth. The party who attacked the jail numbered 75 or 100 men from the country. They broke into the jail but were unable to break into Gridley's cage, and shot at him eight times through the bars. His wife and infant were with him at the time. He cursed and defied his murderers to the last.—The town was picketed and nobody allowed to interfere. The citizens of Warsaw, a despatch says, deeply regret the occurrence which they were unable to prevent, but the people of the country breathe more freely as no man's life or property was safe while Gridley was alive he was so furious at his prosecution for his misdeeds.

SOME one asked Mrs. Cady Stanton if she thought that the girls possessed the physique necessary for the wear and tear of a college course of study. Her reply is both sensible and sarcastic. "I would like to see you," said Mrs. Stanton, "take thirteen hundred young men, and lace them up, and hang ten to twenty pounds weight of clothes to their waist, perch them upon three-inch heels, cover their heads with ripples, chignons, rats and mice, and stick ten thousand hair pins into their scalps; if they can stand all this, they will stand a little Latin and Greek."

GEN. GRANT will take up his permanent residence at the White House on his return from Maine. Probably his first duty will be to receive the Grand Duke Alexis and offer him an amicable cigar.

Items.

It is stated that Mr. A. T. Stewart will tender a grand banquet to the Grand Duke Alexis on his arrival, that event being to mark the opening of his new mansion on Fifth avenue, the finest private residence in America.

A small wooden building in Lowell, occupied has a dry house, was burned yesterday.

The Supreme Court is now in session at Portsmouth. There are two or three murder cases, and some for manslaughter, and many other interesting cases which will be brought before the grand jury. The case of Benjamin Woodbury of Salem, N. H., who was run over by the Manchester and Lawrence train, Dec. 17th, 1870, is expected to be tried at this term.

Several liquor cases in the Supreme Court at Concord, N. H., went up to the full bench on the refusal of a witness who bought liquor to testify, on the ground that his evidence would criminate himself, making him an accomplice in the sale. For political reasons, it is thought, the prosecuting officers were not unwilling to have the cases go by.

It is rumored that Judge Ledwith, one of the Committee of 70, has sold out to Tammany, his price being the judgeship of the Supreme Court, but Ledwith says he can't be bought. The Bowery Savings Bank gave $2000 to the Committee, and the tools of Tammany are trying to get up a run on it in consequence.

COLLECTOR MURPHY of New York publishes a card, in which he denies the allegations of fraud and covers the statement of Gen. Dix and H. S. Olcott. They do not alter the previous decision that no frauds were committed. The Collector states that he never gave a dollar to support Democrats for office, did not attend the Philadelphia Convention, his son never held an office under Controller Connolly, that until last July Greeley was associate owner of stocks in Tweed's tobacco manufactory, that Murray's testimony will not be admitted in any Court, that Olcott is proven to have received $2000 for securing a cadet appointment, and that the charges of both the latter are entirely false. He says he shall not refer to these things again.

The Tribune states that the charges of fraud against Murphy yet remain unrefuted, and they will until he stops writing such foolish cards as this.

MR. J. T. Shores, of Portsmouth, dropped dead yesterday morning. He was cashier of the National Mechanics' and Traders' Bank, which position he has held twenty-four years, previous to which he had been connected with banks some fifteen years. He would have been eighty years old in January next. He was writing at his desk when he fell, and in ten minutes dissolution took place; cause, apoplexy.

Many months must elapse before the dam can be rebuilt. Mr. K. has 150,000 sides of leather which must be removed to some other tannery for finishing.

MASONIC AID.—We understand Land-mark Lodge, at a meeting held last Saturday evening, voted $100 for the relief of their brethren in Chicago. On Monday evening Mount Vernon Chapter voted $100 to the same purpose and a like amount to Michigan and Wisconsin. A committee of four was appointed—two from Portland, and Bro. George A. Head, of Chicago, and Wm. E. Short of Manistee to ascertain if any Masons from Portland were among the sufferers, and afford them relief from the fund.

Deering, Martin Gore, Rensellear Cram, Dr. J. T. Gilman, Rev. Wm. H. Fenn, Rev. B. H. Bailey, John B. Brown. The following preamble and resolutions with reference to Mr. Eben Steele were unanimously passed:

On this, our annual meeting, we do not see the familiar face of one of our associates, Mr. Eben Steele, who has been one of the Managers for eighteen years—always punctual on occasions like this. We are reminded of his decease on the 8th day of August last. It is fitting that this Society, so sensibly affected by the loss of one of its most valued members, should give some expressions of its regard for the memory of the departed; therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of the late Eben Steele this Society loses a faithful manager and earnest helper—one eminently fitted for the place—himself benevolent from principle and habit, self-denying and laborious in his efforts to relieve, encourage and elevate the poor, a pattern of true generosity, laudable industry and Christian simplicity of living.

Resolved, That we mourn the loss of so worthy an associate and sympathize with his bereaved family in their affliction.

Voted, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions be sent to the family of Mr. Steele and also to the press.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon an old man named Richard Elder, living in Windham, got too much beer on board before starting for home, and on Portland street he fell off his seat between the wheels of his wagon, and was badly hurt. He had a scalp wound on the right side of his forehead, an inch and a half long, his ear was torn to tatters, and his face was considerably bruised. Officer Wyman picked him up in an insensible condition and took him to the police station. Drs. Getchell and French dressed his wounds and made him as comfortable as possible. The man was then taken to the city hospital. From his age and physical condition it is thought he will suffer some time from his injuries.

MUSIC HALL.—To-night Mr. Milburn makes his first appearance in Portland, and our citizens are promised a decidedly rich treat. Chas. Dickens, while Milburn was in England, wrote of him as "that great comic genius, who relies on legitimate humor and his great natural abilities for success,"—and pronounced him as "one of the most versatile artists of the stage." As Mr. Milburn's stay here is limited to two nights, all who wish good seats should secure them in season, either at Hawes & Cragin's music store, or at the Box Office of Music Hall.

MORE MILITARY.—Despatches were received from Capt. Parker, at Bangor, yesterday, saying that the Norway Light Infantry, Capt. Beal, 90 men, and the Auburn Light Infantry, 90 men, would visit Portland at the expense of the State and take part in the escort on Friday. Col. Roberts has made arrangements to quarter the Norway company at the United States Hotel, and the Auburn company at the Adams House. These companies will probably arrive here with our Portland military.

BOARD OF TRADE.—An adjourned meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this evening at 7 1-2 o'clock, at which time subjects of importance to the business interests of Portland will be presented. These meetings ought to be well attended by our business men. They are eminently social in character, and are designed for a mutual interchange of views upon business matters, and for a closer intimacy among the business men of all classes and occupations.

CITY HALL.—Villa & Miner's comic opera and comedy troupe will make their first appearance at City Hall this evening. The company is a strong one and includes in its performers those celebrated artists Delehanty and Hengler. The programme is a rich one and calculated to please the taste of all. Tickets may be secured during the day at the music store of Messrs. Hawes & Cragin.

PERIODICALS.—Harper's Monthly for November has been received and is for sale at the book stores of Messrs. Bailey & Noyes, and H. L. Davis, Exchange Street; Loring, Short & Harmon and Augustus Robinson, under Falmouth Hotel, also at the school book, music and periodical store of E. C. AT A MEETING of the managers of the Orphan Asylum Oct. 17th, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That in the death of Mrs. Mary B. Storey, who for 18 years has been Secretary of the Female Orphan Asylum from its commencement, forty-three years, this institution loses a most faithful, earnest and devoted friend; and the managers, who have met with her from month to month, for so many years, a wise, judicious, untiring helper and companion.

Through the infancy, youth and larger growth and comparative maturity of this, our home for orphans and destitute children, she has been in action and council its strongest staff and support.

While we may well rejoice in the belief that she has gone to her reward, we can only lament our heavy loss, and strive to imitate her good example and many virtues.

To the Editor of the Press:—The people of Munjoy, who expect to pay their part of the expense of Gen. Grant's reception, protest against being shut out from a view of the street parade. The Eastern Promenade affords as fine views of the city and bay as any point accessible, and it is the object of the committee to show our visitors all that can be seen in the short time at their disposal, it is fair that they should be taken to MUNJOY.

BANGOR.

The Railroad Celebration.

The Greatest Day Bangor Ever Saw.

THE PROCESSION.

[Special Despatch by International Line.]

BANGOR, Oct. 18.—In spite of the threatening weather this morning the streets were thronged with visitors at an early hour. Towards 8 o'clock the various military companies began to parade, and the fire companies also came out and formed into line. The St. John people were present in force, and prominent among them was the stalwart form of the New Brunswick Secretary, Hon. Mr. Hathaway. The Governor of the Province, Hon. Mr. Wilmot, is also here.

The Bangor House was the great point of attraction, as the thousands of visitors poured into the city from every avenue of approach. Everybody who had not seen the President was anxious to get a glimpse of him, and the result was his apartments at times were besieged. He, however, suffered no intrusion, and arose quite early, notwithstanding he did not retire until a late hour. He did not appear in the least fatigued, having enjoyed a good night's rest, as he expressed himself. His breakfast was taken in his private room, and his table was prepared for nineteen persons. Every seat was occupied and was filled by those members of the President's Cabinet who are here and other distinguished officials.

The procession formed at 10 o'clock. The military display was the largest that has been seen in Maine for many years. Each company appeared with full ranks, and numbered in all over 700 men, many of whom were battle-scarred veterans of the late war. The second division consisted of the firemen, who made a fine appearance and constituted not an unattractive feature of the procession. The polished silver mountings of the engines and the profuse display of flowers and ribbons with which they were decorated, attracted much attention.

One of the most noticeable and really most noteworthy features of the procession, was exemplified in the presence of something like 400 stalwart lumbermen of the Penobscot, with their black felt brigandish appearing hats, bright red shirts and black pantaloons. They presented an array such as is seldom witnessed in this country. Strong men they were and brave. They were divided into two sections, and were commanded by James Walker and Joab W. Palmer.

On Broadway the scholars of all the schools were massed in lines along the sidewalks, and were dressed in gay colors, chiefly red, white and blue, presenting a most attractive and brilliant spectacle. Near the lower end a raised platform, with seats rising like those of an amphitheatre, was filled with girls from the high school. On the upper level were four beautiful young ladies appropriately and richly costumed and supporting silk flags, etc., in keeping, representing, respectively, America, England, Justice and Liberty. Justice held a drawn sword, while America was robed in blue silk with a sash of red, white and blue ribbon, and held a blue silk flag studded with golden stars in her white gloved hand. On the level below were thirty-seven young ladies dressed in red, white and blue, representing the States of the Union, having a blue sash bearing the name of the State in gold letters. On the seats below and at the foot were massed hundreds of younger misses, dressed in white, with gay sashes and head-dresses.

As the head of the procession arrived Keller's American hymn was sung by all the ladies and misses on the stand, which the President acknowledged by bowing and raising his hat. No remarks were made. As the lumbermen passed the children they broke broke into spontaneous cheering, given with all the sturdy power of strong lungs. The cheering ran along the line and added to the general and all pervading enthusiasm. All along the route of procession the decorations were abundant and rich. It seemed as though all the State of Maine and the Provinces had been ransacked for bunting and flags, while mottoes and floral displays covered the more prominent fronts.

The Banquet—Speeches by the President, Lord Lisgar and Others.

The banquet, or what the bill of fare termed a collation, to the President of the United States and the honorary guests of the city, was on the same generous scale that characterized all the other preparations of the occasion. Norombega Hall, platform, body and galleries were all set, and the tables spread with the most inviting viands. At half-past 1 these were well filled with guests, the most distinguished being seated on the platform. The Bangor Band furnished music for the occasion. Mayor Dale called the assembly to order and invited the Hon. Rev. Dr. Pond to invoke the Divine blessing; then followed the clatter of knives and the rattle of crockery. Our temperance friends will doubtless be pleased to know it was regarded as a very excellent dinner without wine. Dinner over, Mayor Dale in an appropriate speech, alluded to the great importance of the occasion and the pleasure with which Bangor for the first time in her history was visited by the Chief Magistrate of the country. He proposed the sentiment, "The President of the United States." This was the signal for tumultuous and long sustained applause. When at length it had subsided, President Grant said:

Mr. Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen:—I congratulate you and the people of the State of Maine, and the people of the country at large, upon the occasion which has brought all of us here. It is a matter in which you are particularly interested; the nation at large, I believe, is almost equally so with you. I hope it may be as successful as we desire, in building up between the two peoples of the same blood, and speaking the same language as ourselves, an intercourse in which I think they are equally interested, and that it may prove in the end a most cordial band of friendship.

Lord Lisgar was received with a round of applause and delivered an eloquent speech that frequently elicited hearty applause. He said that he would hardly be expected to imitate the admirable brevity of the President in acknowledging the favor which the city of Bangor had extended towards him in the welcome which it had awarded him, and the fraternal disposition which it had exhibited towards the country to which he belonged, and under which he held high places. He had feared to find here a bitterness towards Great Britain, existing in the minds of the American people, and especially in the minds of the people of the New England States. What he had witnessed the last few days would enable him to say that the statement should be received with considerable qualification. His allusion to the Treaty of Washington elicted the hearty cheers of the assembly. He said that the leading men of both political parties in Great Britain would be proud of the honor of placing their signature to the Treaty of Washington. That honor in this country had been awarded to Gen. Grant. (Cheers.) The completion of this road would increase the friendly feelings of the two nations, who had a common interest in perpetuating the principles which brought our ancestors to Plymouth Rock, for he claimed his ancestors from these pilgrims. They had the true courage that was not ashamed to own error.—The intelligent people of the two countries were cultivating a mutual friendly feeling.

Gov. Perham being called upon, responded for the State of Maine. He welcomed here those present from all parts of the two countries. It is a great occasion for Maine, celebrating an event which brings together two great nations. He alluded to the vast water power of Maine, its magnificent stretch of sea coast, its slate quarries, ample to slate the roofs of the world. The completion of this road would render brighter and stronger the bonds that united two nationalities.

Gov. Wilmot of New Brunswick, was next called out, and it is generally admitted that His Excellency delivered the speech of the day, but we cannot hope to give any adequate idea of the eloquent fervor of that speech, which carried the assembly by storm. Gov. Wilmot said he arrived here day before yesterday, and yesterday he might have made a speech, but to-day his heart was too full, crowded with so many touching reminders of the day we celebrate. Twenty-one years ago in Portland he had proclaimed the matrimony between Maine and New Brunswick, and no one had yet dared to raise objection to the union. While he looked upon our magnificent country, he said he loved it next to his own. There is no stain upon it now, that a slave cannot breathe under it or his own. He hailed the road as another bond; he welcomed the Treaty of Washington, that gave us such good feeling, and showed the world that no longer the first nations of the world settled their differences by a resort to arms, but by friendly concession that both could afford to make. He challenged us to a friendly contest in the greatest advances in the arts, sciences, and those departments of civilization that elevated people to a nobler type. It was the longest speech of the day.

Gen. Belknap, Secretary of War, was next called upon to speak of the army. He said he responded with pleasure in behalf of the army of the United States, belonging as he did during the war for the Union, to the volunteer army. That army needed no eulogy from him and like. Its great chief, its achievements speak its own history. No act of his had given him greater satisfaction than the fulfilment of that order which last week was given him from the President, in the midst of terrible alarm at Chicago, quietly, promptly and urgently directing him to telegraph that all tents, clothing, blankets and rations be placed at the disposal of the suffering people of Chicago.—Trains passing through scenes like those we have witnessed the past few days, through lines of bright-eyed children, and men of strong arms and willing hearts, show clearly in the words of Milton, that peace has her victories no less than war.

Hon. John A. Peters said that the union of Great Britain and the United States was the union of two of the brightest nations on the face of God's earth.

Hon. Wm. H. McCrillis said it was twenty-three years since the E. & N. A. R. R was first inaugurated. It was then remembered as a mere fancy. He then paid a tribute to the memory of John A. Poor, and accorded him the honor of being its originator, and said he would be remembered in its connection like De-Witt Clinton and the Erie canal.

Mr. Robeson, Secretary of the Navy, being called upon, said he was a representative of one of the military arms of the government.—He reiterated with the feelings of his heart the sentiments of his chief—"Let us have peace." That branch of the service to which he belonged, illustrates in its daily life, more than any other, how peace has had victories no less renowned than war. For the memory and honor of the navy, which seemed to culminate with the thunders of New Orleans, Mobile and Fort Fisher, shine as purely and as brightly amid the darkness and disaster of that Asiatic night when Williams would not leave his sinking ship, or on that island reef where Talbot died to save a shipwrecked crew. Your Honorable Senator, my friends, struck a chord which vibrates in every American heart, when he said that the transactions of the past year would bring the two nations of Anglo-Saxon blood nearer and nearer together. When these two nations proclaimed that their policy was a policy of peace, and that national differences should no longer be settled by the bloody arbitrament of the sword, it was a principle worthy of their championship for all time and all races of men. They are the champions of progress, and human civilization, and were the insignia and the weapons of leadership. Individuals are losing their influence and their power, but the people are gaining more and more. Nations are the grand organized, almost personal power of the continents, and the ages and the earth is illustrious by their presence upon it. The future is secured through the certainty with which they march towards it, and in their mighty grasp the rest of mankind is lifted upward and surged onward nearer and nearer by it towards those gates of mirgled gold and pearl that wait to swing on silent hinges into the great millenium age of freedom, justice and peace. Two nations of Anglo Saxon blood are now united, and if the time should soon come when in the cause of humanity, of right, and of freedom they are called upon to stand together against a world in arms, they are of a race and a mood to meet the crisis without shrinking from danger and without quailing before any earthly powers.

Dr. Tupper, President of the Privy Council of Canada, said that the meeting like this of the representatives of two great powers must result in good. He said that he and the Provincial Governments had sympathized with this country in the late war, and gave instances.

Speaker Blaine was next introduced by Mr. Peters, and said it has been said that this is a nuptial ceremony between New Brunswick and Maine which has this day been concluded. He was glad to be present on the joyous occasion, but envied those who would attend the silver wedding, and still more those who might be present at the golden wedding.

To-day is but the beginning of great things. One of the most astute political economists says that nature had a design that a great city should go up on an average of every hundred miles along our Atlantic coasts; so we have them—Halifax, St. John, Bangor, Portland, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston. The speaker predicted the future greatness of St. John and Bangor, saying, "your children and great grandchildren will feel honored in knowing that you formed a part of this assemblage.

Speeches were also made by Messrs. Homes of Nova Scotia and Judge Rice of Augusta. Mr. Stockwell, of the Boston Journal, spoke for the press in a very happy manner.

The President and the People.

It was now announced, at quarter past 4, that the President would receive the people on the Park, near the Universalist Church. Out of doors, as far as could be seen, the streets were gorged with people moving towards the spot. After a short tarry on the Park the President was driven to his quarters.

Military Parade.

There was a dress parade in Davenport square of all the military companies at half-past 4. The battalion, which numbered between 600 and 700 men, was reviewed by Gov. Perham and staff. The ten companies elicited hearty commendation.

The Trial of Engines.

In the engine trial eight companies entered, as follows:—Tiger No. 4, Hallowell; Torrent No. 2, Dexter; Eagle No. 3, Brewer; Excelsior No. 2, Stillwater; Dirigo No. 1, Oldtown; Monitor No. 2, Orono; Torrent No. 2, Bucksport; Eagle No. 1, Orono. The Monitor of Orono took the first prize and the Tiger of Hallowell the second, the former playing 192 1-2 feet and the latter 183 1 2 feet. The steamer Liberty of Lewiston was the only steamer entered, and this played 158 feet 8 inches.

In the Evening.

The Portland Light Infantry and the Jameson Guards of Bangor gave a drill exhibition this evening that attracted considerable attention. It is just to say that the Portland boys lost none of their well earned reputation.

To-night again the streets were ablaze with illuminations until a sudden shower of a minute put them out. Market square was very brilliant and was witnessed by thousands. A private party to the President, given by Mayor Dale, wound up the festivities of the day.

The crowd to-day is allowed to have been the largest ever seen in Bangor, and is variously estimated at from 35,000 to 40,000. Notwithstanding the crowded state of the city there has been a remarkable absence of the evidence of disorder.

Dr. Olinpod Expresses his Intense Satisfaction.

The good people of Bangor and vicinity may feel proud of this day. It is the best show I think ever seen in New England, and I think I do not set it high when I say the decorations are superior to anything ever seen in this country, and I think the people are the most orderly and well behaved under the circumstance of the same number ever seen in this country. The people of Maine have never seen such a turn out. Such a large number I think was never seen together in Maine before. The weather for military purposes is delightful. OLLAPOD.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Judge Barron, 5th auditor of the treasury, has returned from a visit to Wisconsin. He says that the published reports of the widespread destitution and suffering are not exaggerated. Indeed no accounts can give an adequate idea of the frightful extent of the calamity. The loss to the lumbering interests is immense, but not irreparable as fine forrests are generally standing though clipped of the lighter branches and foliage.

George Cannon, editor of the Salt Lake News, and an elder of the Mormon church, was arraigned before Judge McKeen yesterday morning, upon an indictment of lascivious co-habitation, and pleaded not guilty. The trial of Hawkins' adultery case takes place today.

President Miller welcomed the delegates and stated that the subject of the Chicago fire would be brought before the convention, relative to the losses by New York companies, and believed that they all will be able to pay at least ninety per cent. but time should be allowed them to collect their resources. He believed that the fire at Chicago was the result of badly constructed buildings, as in Paris and London a fire would burn itself out in one block. THE NEW YORK University Medicines!

The Greatest Success of the Age

Branch Office 250 Congress Street, PORTLAND,

Under Congress Hall

PELEG STAPLES.

Agent for the State of Maine and New Brunswick.

☞ Agents wanted in every town in the State. It has been about one and one half years since the University Medicine were introduced into this State Notwithstanding the opposition from the Faculty, the sale is daily increasing. Thousands of certificates can be presented if necessary, but if the following are not sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical, 10,000 additional ones would be useless.

CATARRH (the mother of consumption,) Scrotula, Salt Rheum, and many other diseases hitherto considered incurable, readily yield under treatment of the University Medicines.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS treated with perfect success. Having treated over two hundred cases within the last three months, I consider it safe to warrant a perfect cure to 95 cases out of every one hundred, without interruption or the least exposure.

SPERMATORRHOEA, the greatest destroyer of humanity on the face of the Globe. How many bewail the loss of precious vitality without having the slightest idea of the cause, their manhood is daily vanishing and they are gliding into a state of hopeless decay. I have treated over five hundred cases of this malady within six months with the University Medicines with perfect success.

Persons afflicted with diseases will please call or send and get a book (free), wherein they will find their diseases explained, and necessary remedies.

Certificates of Cures.

I have been troubled, more or less, for five years, with inflammatory rheumatism. For the last six months I have suffered beyond description. My limbs were totally swollen and inflamed; it was with great pain and difficulty that I could move. My case was well known by thousands of citizens in Portland. I am to-day well man, and I was cured by the University medicine, and AcupUncturation. CAPT. W. S. PENNELL, 18 Gray St.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 10, 1871.

DR. STAPLES, Dear Sir,—I am feeling first rate. I have not felt so well for years as I do at the present time. If you recollect when I was at your place I was suffering with a very lame back. That has all left me and I never felt better in my life than at the present time. I don't believe that that medicine can be beat. I believe it is what it is recommended. I believe that medicine is entitled to as much praise as any medicine that was ever introduced to the public. I will not write any more this time. Respectfully, &c., H. A. WHITTIER.

I have been afflicted with Scrofula and Salt Rheum all my life. I have been under treatment of eleven (m ss called) physicians and all the time grew worse. No tongue can tell what my sufferings were, with catarrh, diseased lungs, a nearful cough, my limbs, wrist and hand running sores, no appetite, badly diseased incidental to my sex. Though young, I felt that life was a burden to me. In this dreadful condition, through the advice of a friend, I called on the proprietor of the New York University Medicines. He told me my case was doubtful, but would do the best he could. I commenced taking his medicines April 17th, and am free from the above troubles. MRS. HENRY JONES, Westbrook, Me. July 10, 1871.

Some three months ago I was persuaded by my wife to take the University Medicines. My health and mind was so badly affected that my friends became alarmed for my safety. In a week after commencing to take the Medicine I felt great relief. I am now as well as any other man. My wife has been for a long time afflicted with disease that has baffled the skill of our best physicians; some of which promised her case incurable. Under treatment of the University Medicines, her health has greatly improved. Any one doubting will please call at No. 6 Lincoln street, or at repair shop, Grand Trunk Depot. GEORGE KINGSBURY. Portland, Aug. 5, 1871.

To the Agent of University Medicines at Waterville:
DEAR MRS. FLOOD:—I think it my duty to address you with a few lines stating my cure with your wonderful catarrh specific. I have been afflicted with catarrh ever since a child and have spent a great deal of money among our first doctors, and have tried everything I heard of without obtaining any relief. I am cured by using your Catarrh Specific. MRS. L. A. BUTTERFIELD, Waterville, Me.

For five years I have suffered with catarrh, a bad consumptive cough and pain in my left side. I had employed several physicians and have paid them over $150 without the least benefit. I have used six dollars worth of the University Medicines, and am relieved from the above troubles. JOHN SHAW, West Com' st, Portland, Me.

I have been troubled with Scrotula all my lifetime and Neuralgia, in the head for seven years, and have consulted good physicians from Maine to New York without any benefit whatever. I have taken six bottles of the cancer plant and one and one half of the Neuralgia Elixir, and a little of some other kinds and I feel better than I ever was before in my life. I cannot say with Mr. Munsey, that I feel twenty years younger, being only twenty eight, but can say I never felt so young to my knowledge in my life.

I think the worth of the Medicine cannot be estimated in words or money. MRS. A. O. W. FOSTER, Wilton, Me.

Cases Treated by Letter.

DR. STAPLES:—One bottle of your extract of Canker Plant cured my little boy of Scrotula or 15 months standing. If I should write all say I could not give a full idea of his sufferings. We employed five physicians without relief. His sores are all healed and he appears perfectly well. We think it is a wonderful cure. Several of our friends are taking the medicine with good success. MRS. WM. J. LEWIS, Old Town, Sept. 17, 1870.

SOUTH PARIS, Feb. 2, 1871.
DR. STAPLES—Dear Sir:—The medicine I got at your place, Jan. 2d, has done wonders for me. It is all you recommend it to be.
You may make any use of the above you think proper. Yours truly, SETH MORSE.

The above case has been treated for the past four years by different physicians for cancer.

This may certify that I had been suffering with the "Rhumatism" for five months, and at that time it seized my right hip and leg, down to the foot. This the physicians called "Sciatic." I tried many kinds of highly recommended medicines which I took for the blood. Still I got no relief for seven months more, all the time doing my best, with as good advisers we have here in our city. Finally I called at the New York University Branch, and the proprietor said he could help me. So I commenced on his medicine, and in four weeks I thought I felt relief, and in eight weeks I was able to leave my cane at home, and have been well up to this time, three months have passed. DAVID KEAZER. Portland, Aug. 24, 1870.

A REMARKABLE CURE!—I have been troubled with a bad Scrotula Humor all my life. A tearful sore broke out on my neck. For six months I was under treatment of the best medical advisers I could find in Portland, but all the time grew worse; my appetite failed and I became so weak and emaciated that I could walk but a short distance without help. In this condition I commenced taking the University Medicine. In one week my appetite was good and the deathly aching pain in my stomach vanished. In two months my sore was healed. I have since gained fifty pounds in weight and am now every way well. HENRY D. TODD, TolmanCourt. Portland, Jan. 20th, 1871.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with Chronic Rheumatism. I have spent hundreds of dollars for medical treatment without benefit. Ten days ago, I commenced taking the University Medicines, and I can truly say it has been more benefit to me than all other treatment I ever received. My place of business is 137 Pearl street. I shall be pleased to answer all enquiries. JOHN TURNER.

For twenty-five years I have suffered with Scrotula and Salt Rheum, (or Tetter.) Have paid out hundreds of dollars, and been treated by several first-class physicians without benefit. Some four weeks ago, I commenced using the University Medicines.—At the time my forehead and head were covered with sores and scaliness of the skin; also my tongue was covered with small ulcers. I am to-day free from all the above troubles, and can heartily recommend these medicines to the afflicted. S. C. MUNSEY, 27 Chestnut Street. Portland, Jan. 24, 1870.

As certain individuals have reported tha the above certificate is false and my disease as bad as ever, I wish to say, at the time I gave the above certificate, the story was not half told. In addition to the above, my leg and back were covered with sores. I am now well and feel at least twenty years younger than I did before taking the remedies.

My advice to the afflicted is to give the medicine a trial and not to be deterred by the cry of humbug. It cured me, it has cured many others. I believe the extract of cancer plant will cure any blood disease in existence. S C MUNSEY, 27 Chestnut street, June 7, 1870.

For fifty years I have been troubled with Scrotula. Some fifteen years ago a fearful ulcer broke out on my leg. Three months ago it had extended from the ankle joint nearly to the knee. I could not move without great pain. In this condition I commenced taking the University Medicine.
At first it drove out a fearful humor all over me. In a few days the humor began to subside, and the ulcer is now healed and I feel like a new being. ELIZABETH CHAMBERLAIN, 38 Chestnut-st. Portland, Aug. 30.

I ad the Catarrh so bad for seven years that my head became confused and painful. I was obliged to get up several times in the night to keep from choking. I employed some of the best physicians in the country without benefit. I was perfectly cured with the University Medicines in three weeks. A. M. MORGAN, 224 Cumberland St. Portland. Conductor on the Portland & Odgensburg Railroad. February 18, 1870.

Since giving the above certificate, I have been perfectly free from Catarrh, through I have been continually exposed to wet and colds. Oct. 15, 1871, A. M. MORGAN.

For three years I was badly afflicted with Asthma, Catarrh, and a fearful consumptive cough. I was perfectly cured with the University Medicines in six weeks. For the past two months I have been continually exposed to wet and cold, without the least return of symptoms of the above diseases. CAPT. A. CLEAVES. Cape Elizabeth, June 3, 1870.

I guarantee the above certificates to be genuine, I will forfeit $1000 to any one that will find them otherwise.
Persons having doubts will please address the parties

BONDS.

A Safe and Profitable INVESTMENT.

First Mortgage Bonds

To a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders, cannot be otherwise than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successfully carrying through any work that they undertake.

THE NEW Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad Company

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent. Currency or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E D Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U S Senator; Hon John A Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant-Governor, Troy, N Y; Hon Oakes Ames, M C, Massachusetts; Messrs Morton, Bliss & Co, I Von Hoffman & Co., J & W Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee and others, of New York; Benjamin E Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Havens, President Merchant's Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the Safety of these Bonds. Their Profit is equally manifest upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent, greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents. while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

DR. J. B. HUGHES, CAN BE FOUND AT HIS PRIVATE MEDICAL ROOMS
No. 172 Cumberland Street,
WHERE he can be consulted privately, and with the utmost confidence by the afflicted, at hours daily, and from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Dr. H. addresses those who are suffering under the affliction of private diseases, whether arising from impure connection or the terrible vice of self-abuse. Devoting his entire time to that particular branch of the medical profession, he feels warranted in GUARANTEEING A CURE IN ALL CASES, whether of long standing or recently contracted, entirely removing the dregs of disease from the system, and making a perfect and PERMANENT CURE.
He would call the attention of the afflicted to the act of his long-standing and well-earned reputation furnishing sufficient assurance of his skill and success.

Caution to the Public.
Every intelligent and thinking person must know that remedies handed out for general use should have their efficacy established by well tested experience in the hands of a regularly educated physician, whose preparatory studies fit him for all the duties he must fulfil; yet the country is flooded with poor nostrums and cure-alls, purposing to be the best in the world, which are not only useless, but always injurious. The unfortunate victims (be PARTICULAR in selecting his physician, as it is a lamentable yet incontrovertible fact, that many syphilitic patients are made miserable with ruined constitutions by maltreatment from inexperienced physicians in general practice; for this a point generally conceded by the best syphilographers, that the study and management of these complaints should engross the whole time of those who would be competent and successful in their treatment and cure. The inexperienced general practitioner, having neither opportunity nor time to make himself acquainted with their pathology, commonly pursues one system of treatment, in most cases making an indiscriminate use of that antiquated and dangerous weapon, the Mercury.

Have Confidence
